GENIUS AND COOKING .- A "cook and house keeper" named Katy Liddle of Edinburg has lately filed the following provisional specification in the Patent Office. The Commissioners of Patents bave, however, refused provisional protection. Katy says: "I get a tinsmith or other competent person to make for me, of any suitable material, an egg or saucepan constructed with a second bottom placed framing inside, two or three inches above e bottom of the pan, in which second bottom are made one or more holes, according to the size of the pan desired, to receive the hottom of as many small tea-cups placed in the holes made large enough to allow the cups to be immersed in the boiling water up to the middle of the cup. I placed this pan on the fire, with water sufficient to cover the upper bottom, and let it boil; I have ready the num-ber of eggs required to be cooked, with a small tea-cup for each egg. This tea-cup I dip in boiling water but without leaving any or very little of the boiling water in it, and I then break the egg in the usual way and break the to any end I do the same on the 29th of March. The post place it in the teacup, and I do the same with all the eggs I have to cook. Wadsworth who was killed on Monday last while leading his commard across the Rapid Ann, was born at Geneseo, New York, October 30, 1807, and was consequently in the 57th year of his age when he fell. The Cincinnati Gazette says he was of an influential family, and educated at Harvard and Yale Colleges, studied law in Albany, and completed his course in the office of Daniel Webster. He was admitted to the bar in 1823, but regarded his professional studies only as a part of a finished education, and devoted himself to the management of | for plundering private stores as well as govhis large patrimonial estate, situated chiefly enment property.

At Paducah the rebels were guilty of acts in Western New York. He was a Commissioner of that State to the Peace Convention held in Washington in 1861, and at the opening of the war was one of the first to offer his services to the Government. He not only devoted himself, but much of his means to the service | were leaving the town for that purpose, the of his country. The destruction of the rail- | rebel sharpshooters mingled with them, and, road bridges between Philadelphia and Baltimere having obstructed communications with Washington, he chartered a vessel, freighted it with supplies at his own expense, and sailed with it to Annapolis. In December, 1861, he was appointed volunteer aid on General McDowell's Staff, was present in the first battle of Bull Run, and received special commendation for the bravery and humanity he there displayed. On the 9th. of August, he was made a Brigadier-General, and assigned to a command in the advance under General McClellan. In March, 1862,

REPORT OF THE SUB COMMITTEE. Messrs. In obedience to the instructions of the Joint Committee, adopted on the 18th ult., your committee left Washington on the morning of the 19th, taking with them the stenographer of this committee, and proceeded to Cairo and Mound City, Illinois; Columbus, Kentucky, and Fort Pillow, and Memphis, Tennessee, at each of which places they proceeded to take Although your committee were instructed to inquire only in reference to the attack, cap-ture, and massacre at Fort Pillow, they have eemed it proper to take some testimeny it reference to the operations of Forrest and his command immediately preceding and subseuent to that horrible massacre. It will ap-ear from the testimony thus taken that the trocities committed at Fort Pillow were not e result of passions excited by the heat of nflict, but were the result of a policy delibrately decided upon and unhesitatingly an-nounced. Even if the uncertainty of the fate of these officers and men belonging to colored egiments who have heretofore been taken soners by the rebels, has failed to convince ince even the most sceptical that it is the inze the officers and men of our colored regi nts as entitled to the treatment accorded b civilized nations to prisoners of war. I have had a very pleasant and agreeable little trip so far, found plenty of friends, had plenty of fare, and enjoyed things generally. Coming round by way of Cleveland and Red Clay I made this famous watering resort, and after having gazed upon its attractions, learning its history, especially the sub rosa part, I thought I would make a raid by way of the Stone Church, and strike Ringgold. Travelling incog I had 20 difficulty in the world in doing so, and the fun of the thing is, my ambition is entirely satisted as to whether navbition is entirely satiated as to whether my-self and the party to which I am an addenda can perform a certain operation upon a certain patient. "It can be did," and this is all you need know at present.

RINGGOLD. I found my old friends in Ringgold in the best or health and spirits. Col. Vanderver, than whom a braver man does not wear a soldier's uniform, received your correspondent in that good, social, clever way, which makes a man feel at home. The Colonel commands a brigade which is as unflinching in the hour you shall hear an honorable account. I am "the right man in the right place," when I come to the domicil of Capt. Harmon, of the energetic worker. As a resident of Georgia for many years previous to the breaking out of the rebellion, he had learned government was no new thing, and when the hour arrived to be a traitor or a lever of lib-erty and law, like a true patriot he renounced and scorned the attempts made to force him from his home in the night time, arrived at the nearest point of safety where Federal treops were stationed, and immediately enlisted as a private. By strict attention to business and soldierly conduct, he has risen o his present honorable position, a position which he fills with ability.

THE LOCKS OF THE COUNTRY. The country along my route, as far as regards the handiwork of nature, looks beautiful. The trees are greenly clad in foliage, orchards bloom and bloesom, the grass grows by the wayside, and everything untouched by the hand of man looks pure and healthy. But where the children of Adam-what faw thing to do with Mother Earth, there are marks of a dying energy, of careless want and neglect. Houses look dilapidated, fences are torn down, bridges unrepaired, and an evident desire to make everything you can out of what remains. There are occasional nice fields of wheat, but these are seldom allowed to come to maturity, for there is no come along and pasture thereon.

IS THERE ANY UNION FEELING IN THE SOUTH? Undoub edly there is. As I passed along the road I made a number of stoppages, men be road I made whitmeer of suppages, merely to inquire what the feeling was in regard to the great contest, and whether three years' tyranny of rebel rule had not literally crushed the love of the old flag out of the hearts of that these mountain people yet, love the gov-ernment of their fathers; that the flag of their The following are drafted for the fifty per country is gladly welcomed amidst prayers and tracinos. In the capital of our country we have this ay organized a central society for the sup ion of extravagance, the dim oreign imports, and the practice of economy n all our social relations. To this society we have given the name of "The Ladies" National Covenant." For this society we have an example and precedent at once august and SIX MONTES VOLUNTEERS .- The ten thou and six months volunteers promised by the Governor of Kentucky will have to be raised in the next thirty days by volunteering; i not, a draft will be made to supply the deficiency. The troops raised in the counties of Hart, Green, Larue, Hardin, Grayson, Barren, and Edmonson, will rendezvous at Munfordville. Col. Geo. T. Wood and Lieut. J. J. Ennis have been appointed by Governor Bramlette to act as agents for the State, to take charge of the volunteers at the abovementioned point, to superintend and direct their organization as they report.

THE DEAFT YESTERDAY .- The chief excite ment in the city resterday was occasioned by the draft. Promptly at ten o'clock the drawing commenced. A cold, drizzling rain was falling steadily throughout the day, and the streets were in a sloppy condition. But the disagreeable weather did not prevent the gathering of a large crowd in front of Doctor Bell's office. Jefferson street, between Third and Fourth, was crowded with a multitude of anxious faces. Each individual made his appearance, armed with an umbrella, and feet encased in rubbers or water-proof boots. They came from the counting-room and the workshop, and the revolutions of the wheel of destiny were watched with anxious interest. For nearly four long hours the jam continued. Good humor was the prevailing sentiment. As the name of some person known to the crowd was announced as having drawn a prize, wild cheers would swell upon the air. and the individual would receive the happy congratulations of his friends.

When the last ticket was drawn, and the draft for Jefferson county announced as completed, the multitude scattered like "chaff before the wind," some for home and dinner, but the majority in search of a drink. The evening papers were in great demand.

The newsboys, for once, perfectly ignored the startling headlines which prefaced the exciting news from the great battle-fields in the East, their only cry being, "Three o'clock fon: All about the draft!" This simple uncement was sufficient to insure the sale of a paper, and the boys were in ecstacies over their success. Altogether it was a lively day, and one long to be remembered in Louisville. A full report of the names drawn will be found on the first page of this morning's issue. The draft for the District will be resumed to-day. Oldham county will be the favored one. The names enrolled by her, as subject to the draft, will be placed in the wheel, the revolutions made, and the prizes drawn. The hour for commencing is ten

AN AFFAIR THAT CALLS FOR INVESTIGA-TION .- On last Monday a Lieutenant, with a small guard, in charge of a squad of rebel prisoners, forwarded from Cairo, had secured a car on the railroad en route for this city. A Lieutenant-Colonel, in command of a detach- prescribe. ment of troops, was on the same train. During the trip several soldiers from the detachment came into the car where the prisoners were under guard, and commenced abusing the whole party. The Lieutenant ordered them to leave the car, which they refused to Burksville, says that the border counties of do. Ohio Veteran Volunteers, Lieutenant-Colonel P. Metham commanding, arrived in the city yesterday, fresh from furlough and home, enroute for the front. We took occasion to compliment the Eightieth, when it passed through the city over a month ago, then homeward bound, and time has proved that the praise. was not idly bestowed. The regiment returns to the field recruited in numbers, and with new banners unfurled to the breeze. Whether in the camp, on the weary march, or gallantly charging 'mid the thundering echoes of the battle-field, we feel confident that the veteran Eightieth will exhibit discipline, and prove its effectiveness as an organization. Bear the banners forward, boys, and let not the line waver, as sweeps on ward the advance! Strike boldly, charge gallantly, and write in fairest letters on the battle-flag, the proudest names of glorious achievements! Let not the inscriptions on the tattered, war-stained banners, folded away in the archives of the capital of your native State, tell of nobler deeds, or more heroic daring, than can be won in the future, and proudly written upon the new flags consigned to your faithful guard and keeping! ARRACES NEWS .- The receipts at the Baresterday were one hundred and fortynine convalescents from Camp Nelson, fifty stragglers from different points, eight deserters from Cincinnati and nine from Indianapolis. The full transfers were fourteen stragers to Lexington, two hundred and twenty to Nashville, three to Colesburg, eight to Cincinnati, and twelve prisoners to Nashville. Nathan Young, of the 63d Indiana volunteers, was arrested in Jeffersonville without a furlough or pass. He will be forwarded to his regiment under guard, charged with desertion. COURT-MARTIAL .- The Court met pursuant Galveston, April 12.—A small schooner was driven ashore some sixteen miles down the island this morning. A Yankee Lieuten-ant, with five men, and the Captain and one of the crew of the schooner, were on board, and were brought to the city at 3 P. M. A prize crew of a Lieutenant and five men were put on board; but, having found some liquors, they all became drunk, and in consequence, not being able to manage the boat, it was driven ashore, when the party were captured and brought to town. The gunboat was firing at the schooner when the party left.

BANKS AND HIS BACKERS. The plan of this present Yankee campaign in this direction is becoming more and more apparent. There is no longer any doubt in my mind concerning the matter. I will tell you how I put it up, and take the conse-

Banks, like Sherman, started several months since for "Texas or Hell." He threw his forces all along the coast of Texas, landing them only in unprotected places, or unfortified peniu-rulas and islands, and such small towns as he could gain access to without much opposition, with the avowed intention of invading the State to its very core. After knocking about there for several months, with no other results than simply turning our channel of trade with Mexico in another direction, he became cha-grined with his success, or rather want of success, and in his wrath he declared he would enter the State by another route.

Then it was he commenced maturing his plans for the campaign in which he is now engaged. He returned to New Orleans, recalled to that point the principal portion of his Texas invaders, and immediately set about organiz-ing for the Red River Valley route. At his so-Little Rock and placed under the command of Steele, and fifteen thousand men, from Vicksburg, Natchez, and other points on the issippi, were landed at the mouth of Red

Now, for the movement and its objects. Now, for the movement and its objects. Steele was to march to Red river, via Arkadelphia and Washington, devastating the country and drive General Price into Louisians or Texas. Hurlbut, or whoever has command of the troops that landed at Simmsport, was to force General Taylor back, destroy Fort DeRussy, and make his way to Alexaded where her (Banke) was to force andria, where he (Banks) was to form a function with him, via Franklin, Opelousas, and Washington, and from thence pass up Red River Valley, both by land and water, and join Steele at Marshall, Texas, Steele caping Jefferson, and Banks Shrevepo the route. At the same time a force was to go up the Ouachita to Monroe, and from thence by land to Shreveport. Each of these col-umns were to "pay their way" by capturing all the products of the country within their reach, destroying crops, farming utensils, &c., thus rendering the country through which it passed uninhabitable for the present, at least.

The plan, it was supposed, would rid both Arkansas and Louisiana of the "reoels." Arriving at Marshall, they would concentrate all their forces, and sweep through Texas to ouston and Galveston. Thus far the plan has worked admirably, as they supposed. They have both continued to advance, with but little serious opposition, until they are within a few miles of the Texas line. Generals Taylor and Price have gradually fallen back, as the enemy desired, and one not acquainted with the preparations in store for the enemy would naturally con-clude that they are in a fair way of carrying out their plans. But a day of reckoning is at hand, and I will bet myself against the icest widow in the State of Texes that their plans will be frustrated before they can enter Texas. Nay, more; I will make the same bet that both columns now advancing in this direction will be whipped out and compelled

Some time since we received information that the entire 2d Louisiana cavalry, Colonel Vincent, had been gobbled up by the enemy. Later intelligence contradicted the rumor. eral days small squads came in, until all re-turned with the exception of fifty-five men. Many of the missing are known to be prisoners in the hands of the enemy.

A few days since twenty-two of this regiment made their appearance on Red river, near Snaggy Point, below Alexandria, and scared up four Yankees who were at a farmhouse some distance from the river, pressing wagons to haul cotton to a steamer near by. These were captured and compelled to pile our party to the steamer. A demand was made for her surrender, which, being refused, she was fired into. The dose being repeated, eight of the Yankees were killed and wounded. The boat then surrendered. After taking off such plunder as they desired our men urned the boat, together with the dead up-and activity among the citizens here to day. We have gained a great victory below, and to-day the fighting is to be renewed with several thousand fresh troops, all veteraus. All feel quite certain that we will be able to hold our own, yet prudence requires that we should be prepared for anything that may happen, for the full strength of the enemy is not known, and every one seems to be in readiness to stay or leave, according to the fortane of war. Retreating is a new business to many here, and it is in some instances ladirous to witness the manuer in which some of The Governor thereis calls for ten thousand (10,000) of the militia of the State, to serve for six months. This call is made that an end may be put to the pending war during this summer, and the fall ind us enjoying all the blessings of peace. You are urgently requested to take this matter in hand at once and raise a battalion, or if not a battalion, at least a company, from your Regimental District, and report with them to the nearest point of rendezvous. The limited time allowed requires that we should commence work immediately, and work in earnest. Having been honored by the strongest recommendations from your county, and, through the trust thereby imposed in you, been commissioned by his Excellency the Governor to an important military command, we are entitled to call upon and demand your earnest efforts to raise the men required in this call. I hope to hear a good report from you in a few days. The number of men required are to be raised, and if they are not forthcoming by volunteers, a draft will be promptly reserved to, and counties which have been heretofore delinquent will be sompelled to respond. Let us, then, have every Kentuckian step forward and sustain the true renown and glovy of the viate.

TO THE MILITIA OF KENTUCKY. TO THE MILIPIA OF KENTUCKY.

The Secretary of War bas authorized the oulistment of TEN THOUSANDTROOPS in Kentucky FOR SIX MONTHS' SERVICE.

The last campaign of this terrible war is pending. The veteran soldiers among us are required at the front, to overwhelm the enemy, and the Government wishes to entrust its property and rafety to your bands. Let every man enlist for this short term who wishes a termination of the war. Do not wait for special actionity from the State, but organize at once—at the posts of Louisa, Frankfort, Lexington, Burnsice Foint, Munfordville, Bowning Green, Louisville, and Paducah. dervous all that wish to serve their struggling ceuntry.

But a short time is given to organize this force. It is confidently believed that this appeal to Kentuckians by their Government will be gallantly anawered. The following-named gentlemen are hereby specially requested to act at their several stations as agents for the State of Kentucky, to superintend and direct the organization of the troops as they report:

General Orders, No 6.

II. Officers traveiling under orders, or on leave of absence, sick or furloughed soldiers departing from or returning to their regi-ments, and small detachments of troops, will manders, of Brigadier-General Andrew Johnson, Military Governor of Tennessee, or of the commanding officer of either of the Departments of the Ohio, the Cumberland, or the Tennessee, or of the Military Division of the Mississippi. Bodies of troops will not be transported by railroads when it is possible for them to march, except upon the order of the commanding officer of some one of the Military Departments above named. Civil Military Departments above named. Civil employes of the various Staff Departments will be transported on the order of the Senior and Supervising Quartermaster, Department of the Cumberland, at Nashville, Tenn., or of the commanding officer of either of the Military Departments above named. Employes of the Railroads will be transported on the order of the Superintendent or Chief Engineer of the Railroads. with perfect ease.

General Garibaldi, when at the house of the United States Consul in London, said that George N. Sanders invited him at one time by letter to join the Southern army, but het be grown provided to his latter. supplies, of which the proper officer of the Quartermaster's Department will be the judge. IV. When a suffi-cient surplus of stores has been accumulated at the front, the Senior and Supervising Quartermaster aforesaid may increase this al-allowance, but not before.

V. Stores exclusively for officers' messes in very limited quantities, after due inspection by the Inspecting Officer at Nashville, Tenn., of Sutlers' Goods, and all private Stores, shipped to the front, will be passed free on the several roads, on the order of the Senior and Supervising Quartermaster, Department of the Cumberland, at Nashville, Tenn. VI. Horses, Cattle, or other live stock, will not be transported by Railroad, except on the written order of the Commanding General of the Military Division, or of one of the Miliry Departments. VII. lowed to bring up private freight, when the shipment thereof does not interfere with the Il working of the Roads, of which the Senior and Supervising Quartermaster at Nash-rille will be the judge.

VIII. Provost Marshals have nothing to do with transportation by Railroads. Their passes merely mean, that the bearer can go rom one point to another named in their pass, out not necessarily by rail. The Railroads are purely for Army purposes.

IX. When the Rolling Stock of the Rail-roads is increased, or when a que accumula-tion of stores has been made at the front; increased fecilities may be extended to Passen-gers and Private Freight, of which due notice will be given. Until that time, citizens and utlers must use wagons.
